Aventure President to serve on Board of Northrop Rice Foundation

Zaheer Faruqi, President of Aventure Aviation, has been elected to serve on the board of the Northrop Rice Foundation.

Founded in 1994, the Houston, Texas based foundation is dedicated to promoting education, professionalism and safety within the aviation career field. Support for the advancement of aviation maintenance careers includes: scholarships to students, career opportunities for graduates and grants to instructors.

According to the foundation website, Northrop Rice aims to “enhance the role and status of Aviation Maintenance Technicians; and ensure that an adequate supply of qualified aviation maintenance technicians will be available to meet future industry needs.”

“We are delighted that Zaheer and Aventure Aviation are supporting our efforts to assist men and women wishing to advance their careers in aviation maintenance, and increase our foundation membership especially from International companies and individuals,” Jim Rice, the foundation’s founder, stated.

Aventure is a charter member of the Northrop Rice Foundation and encourages others to become members and/or send donations. Applications can be found at:
