"The Dubai Airshow has been a flagship event for Aventure for over a decade," Amyr Qureshi, Aventure's Senior Vice President, commented.

"This is where we can meet with most of our global customers in one place. This year, we are especially excited to greet them at our uniquely designed purpose-built exhibit at location 2069," Qureshi added.

"We always receive a lot of visitors eager to learn more about our ever-expanding capabilities, product lines, support contracts, and component MRO solutions programs, all of which have greatly benefited our customers in cost savings and conveniences," commented Melissa Coleman-Grina, Senior Director of Sales.

"Be it airline and MRO surplus consignments, or offering our full range of in-house stocked after market commercial and military parts, we are always there to assist 24/7," Coleman-Grina continued.

In addition to Qureshi and Coleman-Grina, Aventure executives attending from around the globe will include Aventure's President Zaheer Faruqi, and Director of Sales Talha Faruqi.
