

August 2016

This year marks Aventure's 15th anniversary, a milestone in our continuing commitment to serving our customers with the highest quality aviation parts, expert service, and support.

Aventure welcomes all ACPC guests to our beautiful hometown of Atlanta.

Things to see while in town:

Coca-Cola Museum
www.worldofcoca-cola.com

CNN Center
www.cnn.com/tour

Georgia Aquarium
www.georgiaaquarium.org

SkyView Atlanta.
www.skyviewatlanta.com

Centennial Olympic Park
www.centennialpark.com

Human Rights Museum
www.civilrightsmuseum.org

Aventure Aviation
www.aventureaviation.com

Aventure is proud to support:

Aventure Aviation | Atlanta
Casablanca • Dubai • Istanbul
Manila • Riga • Toronto

Aventure Welcomes ACPC to Atlanta

The annual Air Carriers Purchasing Conference (ACPC) will be held August 20–23 at the Marriot Marquis hotel in Atlanta, Georgia, USA.

The mission of ACPC is to bring together buyers and sellers of aviation related goods and services, in a fair and level networking environment.

As a major aviation parts stockist and supplier, Aventure Aviation looks forward to welcoming buyers and senior management of 67 airlines and over 850 suppliers from all over the world to our hometown of Atlanta, which last hosted ACPC in 2011.

Representing Aventure will be Melissa Coleman Grina, Senior Director of Business Development, and Ebrahim Zakaria, Sales & Marketing.

They are both available to discuss Aventure's award-winning solutions for parts supply, asset management, surplus inventory, consignment management, and component MRO services 7/24/365.

Those needing immediate assistance

Meet us at ACPC

Melissa Coleman-Grina
Senior Director of Business Development
+1.678.860.6903
melissa@aventureaviation.com

Ebrahim Zakaria
Sales & Marketing
+1.404-304-0478
ebrahim@aventureaviation.com

can email rfq@aventureaviation.com. ACPC guests are also encouraged to call +1.770.632.7930 for an appointment to visit our headquarters, located 20 miles south of the world's busiest airport, Atlanta's Hartsfield–Jackson.

Aventure To Celebrate 15th Anniversary "Grand Prix" Extravaganza to be Held at Atlanta's Porsche Experience Center During ACPC

Aventure Aviation will celebrate its 15th Anniversary on August 20th by hosting the "Aventure Grand Prix" event at Atlanta's Porsche Experience Center.

This 'fast and furious' event is by invitation only, and guests are expected to have a thrilling and exhilarating experience on the Porsche race track and simulators.

Aventure "pit crew members" are excited to meet their VIP guests, and share their Georgia Southern hospitality.

Next Page

it's your career—
aim higher

Aventure is Hiring to Support Major Expansion

We need all management and skill levels as we plan our new Aventure Campus. For a confidential interview on the sidelines of ACPC, contact:

Luz Cardenas, HR Manager
+1.770.632.7930
careers@aventureaviation.com

See a video about our campus:
[www.aventureaviation.com/
video-campus.html](http://www.aventureaviation.com/video-campus.html)

Aventure is Offering Business Opportunities

Aventure Aviation is seeking to acquire component MRO shops and parts suppliers. If you are an owner looking for a partnership or an exit strategy for your business, call Aventure's President on his cell at +1.770.309.2683 for confidential discussions or a personal meeting if you are attending ACPC.

Aventure Aviation Supports Solar Impulse's Historic Zero-Fuel Around the World Flight

Aventure is proud to support Solar Impulse, a Swiss long-range experimental solar-powered aircraft project, and also the name of the project's two operational aircraft.

Aventure has sponsored solar cells on the Solar Impulse 2 (Si2) aircraft, which on July 26th, completed a 16 month 26,000 mile circumnavigation of the Earth, the first by a piloted fixed-wing aircraft using only solar power.

The Si2's wingspan is roughly the size of a Boeing 747, but its weight is comparable to an automobile.

The privately financed project is led by Swiss engineer and businessman André Borschberg and Swiss psychiatrist and aeronaut Bertrand Piccard, who took turns piloting the single seat

Solar Impulse aircraft on different legs around the world.

Aventure salutes these two visionary pioneers in flight for showing the world that clean technologies and energy efficiency can reduce our emissions and improve our quality of life.

Atlanta's Team Aventure Picks Fruit for Those in Need

Team members from Aventure Aviation's Atlanta headquarters spent their Saturday morning picking fruit at the Real Life Center orchard on July 16.

The orchard provides fresh fruit to families of the Real Life Center in Peachtree City. Established in 1998, The Real Life Center is one of the most highly respected non-profits in the South Atlanta Metro area.

Summer is berry season at the orchard.

Aventure staff collected an average of four pounds of ripe blueberries each.

"It was a morning well spent knowing the berries were going to people in need," said one of Aventure's newest employees, Repair Coordinator Jackie Castañeda.

"I was also able to get to know my new colleagues on a more personal level and foster an even better relationship with them," Castañeda added.

